Goals and Objectives

Program Review Goals & Objectives - Process and Mission Statement Alignment : Version by Crabill, Phillip on 01/04/2020 04:54

What processes does your program/service area follow to create, evaluate, and update annual plan goals?

1. The Department Annual Plan is reviewed, edited, and goals are consistently evaluated by Counseling department Dean and faculty each fall as part of normal department activities.
2. Past goals are assessed by the dean and faculty, and either marked complete or ongoing.
3. New goals are developed by the dean and faculty, and added to the Department Annual Plan for the current academic year.

How is SCC's mission statement (<https://www.sccollege.edu/About/Pages/CollegeMissionStatement.aspx>) reflected in your goals?

The Counseling Department's Vision and Mission are closely aligned with SCC's Mission Statement. The Counseling Department aims to support the educational, career and personal growth of SCC students, providing services dedicated to increasing student success and creating a culture on campus where students are free to learn, to act, to communicate, and to think critically. Counseling faculty assist students in strategically planning for success through goal setting that is informed by one's values, shaped by one's experiences, and aligned with each student's short- and long-term vision. Counseling faculty guide students through a process of career exploration and development, planning for certificate and/or degree attainment, and transfer planning to meet the educational goals and completion needs of all students. The Counseling Department is closely working through the on-boarding process with new and returning students, offering college orientations, academic planning and registration workshops, and assessment and placement into English/ACE, reading and math courses. Counseling faculty work closely with students to develop both abbreviated and comprehensive student education plans, mapping from start to finish a pathway for each student to satisfy their educational goals – all the while encouraging personal reflection and deeper self-exploration at each step of the process.

Program Review Data Analysis - 1 to 4 : Version by Crabill, Phillip on 01/04/2020 04:54

What is the successful course completion rate (grades of A, B, C, Credit or Pass) for courses within the program and how does this compare to the institution-set standard for successful course completion of 63%?

Successful course completion rates for Counseling courses offered in 2018-19 are detailed as follows:

- CNSL 101 = 75.4%

- CNSL 106 = 100%
- CNSL 110 = 96.2%
- CNSL 113 = 82.4%
- CNSL 116 = 65.4%
- CNSL 118 = 75.9%
- CNSL 150 = 93.2%

All Counseling courses taught during the 2018-19 academic year exceeded the institution-set standard for successful course completion of 63%.

Program Review Data Analysis - 6 to 13 : Version by Crabill, Phillip on 01/04/2020 04:54

Are there any patterns, trends, or anomalies in the Student Demographic Data (Ethnicity, Age, Gender, Veteran Status, etc.)?

Demographics based on Gender, Age and Ethnicity:

Gender Female Male Unknown

Age 17 and under 18-21 22-24 25-29 30 - 39 40 - 49 50 and over

Ethnicity African-American American Indian/Alaskan Asian Filipino Latino Multi-Race Other Pacific Islanders Unknown White

Special Population Demographics:*DSPS Proportion*Foster Youth Proportion*Low Income Proportion*Veteran Proportion

Overall, demographic trends remained relatively constant across the reporting period with minimal fluctuation. We saw a consistent increase in Latina/o students participating in Counseling coursework across the reporting period (from 2014-15 through 2018-19).

2. What are the occupational projections for employment?
3. How do these projections affect planning for your program?

1. What occupations are related to your program?

1. Educational, Guidance, School, and Vocational Counselors (SOC Code: 21-1012)
2. Child, Family and School Social Workers (SOC Code: 21-1021)

2. What are the occupational projections for employment?

1. Area = California; Projections for 2016-2026; Employment Estimated = 31,900 in 2016 - Employment Projected = 36,600 in 2026; Employment Change = +14.7%; Annual Average Openings = 3,970.
2. Area = California; Projections for 2016-2026; Employment Estimated = 31,000 in 2016 - Employment Projected = 35,000 in 2026; Employment Change = +12.9%; Annual Average Openings = 36,900.

3. How do these projections affect planning for your program?

The Counseling Department Dean, Chairs and Faculty regularly review employment trends related to our field and strategically offer courses in part with this consideration in mind. Our department has increased the number of sections of CNSL 150 - Introduction to Human Services (both on-campus and online) to help prepare the next generation of Counseling professionals who will assist our communities.

Please provide comment on the rates of progress through the basic skills course sequence within your program using the California Community College Chancellor's Office Data Mart Basic Skills Progress Tracker \(http://datamart.cccco.edu/Outcomes/BasicSkills\_Cohort\_Tracker.aspx\).

Please provide comment on student survey results administered by the program, if any.

The Counseling Department conducts Service Area Outcomes assessments in the Spring semester of each academic year. The following details our Counseling Program Effectiveness Survey for 2018-19:

A 17-question survey was administered online to students who visit the Counseling Center at SCC from February 28 through March 28. A total of 1,417 students visited the Counseling Center during the assessment period. Of those, 156 students (11%) completed the survey online. Five (5) questions on the Counseling Program Effectiveness Survey were identified as relating directly to the quality of counseling services and student satisfaction on the survey.

Response Frequency Table for Counselor Program Effectiveness Survey, 2017

Question	Response	Strongly Agree	Agree	Somewhat Disagree	Strongly Disagree	N/A
5. The counselor was attentive to my needs		80%	13.55%	3.23%	3.23%	-
6. The counselor helped me understand what general education plan I should follow based on my educational goal(s)		74.36%	14.74%	5.77%	1.92%	3.21%
7. Did the counselor assist you with your needs and/or refer you appropriately?		78.21%	14.46%	3.85%	3.21%	1.28%
8. Are you comfortable returning to meet with the counselor you saw?		80%	12.26%	3.23%	4.52%	-
9. Would you refer someone else to see a counselor at SCC?		77.56%	14.74%	4.49%	3.21%	-

The overall results suggest our department met or exceeded the established criteria for success (80%, set by the department), indicating that students who visited the Counseling Center received quality counseling services and support.

Please provide comment on program exit exams or other assessments of graduating students, if any.

Program Review Outcomes Assessment - Assessment of CSLOs and PSLOs : Version by Crabill, Phillip on 01/04/2020 04:54

How does the program/service area systematically assess student learning outcomes and/or service area outcomes using specific and measurable performance criteria?

Counseling course Student Learning Outcomes (SLOs) and Service Area Outcomes (SAOs) are assessed annually. Based on collaborative efforts between the division Dean, department Co-Chairs and Faculty, Counseling course SLOs and SAOs are reviewed and discussed in detail at Fall and Spring FLEX meetings. Course SLO and department SAO assessment tools vary in structure, and include survey-style questionnaires, items identified in quizzes/exams, and responses detailed in essays or short answer questions. SLO and SAO questions are designed by Counseling faculty, aligned with both department and institutional outcomes, and considered annually during FLEX discussions. Updates are made to SLO/SAO assessment tools as needed, and in consultation with the division Dean.

What is your assessment cycle, how are assessments carried out, and who is involved in the assessment process?

COUNSELING COURSE SLOs:

Counseling course SLO assessment cycles are as follows:

- CNSL 101 assessed each Fall semester
- CNSL 106 assessed each Fall semester
- CNSL 110 assessed each Summer term
- CNSL 113 assessed each Spring semester
- CNSL 116 assessed each Spring semester
- CNSL 118 assessed each Spring semester

- CNSL 150 assessed each Fall semester

Counseling course SLOs are assessed by coordination between department co-chairs and Counseling instructional faculty. SLO reports are authored annually by department co-chairs and/or instructional faculty, and results of each assessment cycle are analyzed and discussed with both faculty and the Dean of Counseling and Student Support Services. Revisions to SLO processes are discussed during FLEX meetings each fall and spring.

COUNSELING DEPARTMENT SAOs:

Counseling department SAOs are assessed each Spring semester. A 17-question survey is emailed to students who visit the SCC Counseling Center from February through March by coordination amongst department co-chairs and program specialists. Responses to survey questions are analyzed each year, with SAO reports being authored by department co-chairs and discussed with out division Dean and at FLEX meetings with Counseling faculty each fall and spring.

Upon review of course student learning outcome assessment data, give at least one specific example of:

1. A course student learning outcome which students have definitely met and why you think students were successful.
2. A course student learning outcome which students have definitely not met and why you think students were unsuccessful. What changes have you considered making?

1. Counseling 116, Spring 2018 Assessment Cycle - SLO #1

Description of Measurement Tool: An all-encompassing assessment with six questions, pertaining to the relationship between career/education, choices and values, interests, skills : and personality traits which led to the integration of a career/life plan was utilized to measure the effectiveness of SLO1 and SLO2.

Criteria for Success: Individual & Criteria for Individual Success = 2 out of 3 questions answered correctly.

Collective Student Criterion : Criteria for Collective Success = 70% or above correct response total from all students assessed on SLO #1.

Cycle of Assessment : This outcome is assessed during each spring semester.

Who is Responsible for : The instructor of record is responsible for administering the assessment. The Counseling Department Chairs are responsible for compiling the data

Assessment Activity? : and sharing results with the entire department.

Six sections of CNSL 116 participated in this assessment cycle. A total of 96 students assessed this cycle. There were three questions on the assessment that measured student achievement on SLO1 (questions 2, 5 and 6). The Individual Criteria for Success on SLO1 was set at 2 out of 3 correct responses for each student being assessed. There were a total of 6 students who failed to meet the minimum Criteria for Success on SLO1. The remaining 90 students (or 93.8%) achieved at least 2 out of 3 correct responses on SLO1.

Summary of Findings :

The Collective Criteria for Success on SLO1 was set at 70% or above. The average of correct responses for all 96 students taken collectively across the three questions indicated that 89.2% of students achieved success for SLO1. To measure Collective Criteria for Success on SLO1, the total number of correct responses was divided by the total number of responses submitted. There were a total of 257 correct responses out of 288 total responses on questions #2, #5 and #6 when combined.

Results : Criteria for Success Achievement Status: Exceeded

Analysis of Findings : Findings indicate that a large majority of students (89.2%) were able to identify the relationship between career/education choices and values, interests, skills, and personality tests.

Recommendations : Students have met expectations for SLO1. The Counseling Department chairs and instructors will be discussing these results at the Counseling Department Fall 2018 FLEX week meeting. Any additional recommendations derived from Fall 2018 FLEX will be considered for the Spring 2019 assessment period.

2. To date, students completing Counseling course SLOs have all met or exceeded the institutional norms for success. Thus, no changes have been necessary in response to students failing to successfully meet SLO minimums. The department regularly reviews CSLO data each year. Questions are revised when needed to help best assess student learning outcomes.

What changes has the program already made based on its assessment of course student learning outcomes? Give specific examples and describe how you know if the changes have increased success?

The Counseling department consistently reviews and modifies the assessment methods and devices utilized for SLO assessment. One example of a change made to increase student success took place just prior to the Fall 2017 term. The department made the decision at Fall 2017 FLEX meetings to add one question to our Counseling 101 SLO assessment survey related SLO #2 on our assessment protocol. This question helped to assess the degree to which students are successfully synthesizing the information available to them on Assist.org related to transfer major preparation and education planning. Student performance on this SLO has traditionally exceeded the institution norms for success.

Upon review of program student learning outcome assessment data, what patterns, trends, or anomalies did your program identify?

Review of the Counseling department SLO assessment data illustrates a consistent meeting or exceeding of institutional standards and benchmarks for success. The data cited in assessment reports for all Counseling department CSLOs continue to reinforce that core curriculum in each of the Counseling courses is being delivered effectively and efficiently. Core learning objectives in each Counseling course are being met at all levels, allowing students to synthesize information presented in each class in a way that increases their overall success at SCC.

Program Review Outcomes Assessment - SAOs Table : Version by Crabill, Phillip on 01/04/2020 04:54

The Counseling Department conducts Service Area Outcomes assessments in the Spring semester of each academic year. The following details our Counseling Program Effectiveness Survey for 2018-19:

A 17-question survey was administered online to students who visit the Counseling Center at SCC from February 28 through March 28. A total of 1,417 students visited the Counseling Center during the assessment period. Of those, 156 students (11%) completed the survey online. Five (5) questions on the Counseling Program Effectiveness Survey were identified as relating directly to the quality of counseling services and student satisfaction on the survey.

Response Frequency Table for Counselor Program Effectiveness Survey, 2017

Question	Response	Strongly Agree	Agree	Somewhat Disagree	Strongly Disagree	N/A
5. The counselor was attentive to my needs		80%	13.55%	3.23%	3.23%	-
6. The counselor helped me understand what general education plan I should follow based on my educational goal(s)		74.36%	14.74%	5.77%	1.92%	3.21%
7. Did the counselor assist you with your needs and/or refer you appropriately?		78.21%	14.46%	3.85%	3.21%	1.28%
8. Are you comfortable returning to meet with the counselor you saw?		80%	12.26%	3.23%	4.52%	-
9. Would you refer someone else to see a counselor at SCC?		77.56%	14.74%	4.49%	3.21%	-

The overall results suggest our department met or exceeded the established criteria for success (80%, set by the department), indicating that students who visited the Counseling Center received quality counseling services and support.

Program Review Outcomes Assessment - SAOs Prompted Change : Version by Crabill, Phillip on 01/04/2020 04:54

What changes will the service area make based on its assessment of service area outcomes? Give specific examples.

The Counseling Department gained a wealth of valuable feedback and data during the Spring 2019 assessment cycle. The overall results suggest our department met or exceeded the established criteria for success, indicating that students who visited the Counseling Center received quality counseling services and support.

The ability to disaggregate the data based on each student's self-reported gender and ethnicity allowed for further analysis of the impact our counselors have with these target Equity groups. Based on this analysis, trends in the data suggest that counselors are successfully meeting and exceeding the needs of those students identified in the Student Equity Plan with the greatest disproportionate gap in achieving success. This speaks to the quality of services our department aims to deliver to all students, but also to services designed for those most underrepresented and at risk of falling short of achieving success in higher education without support and appropriate intervention. The Counseling Department coordinates and/or participates in a multitude of initiatives and events, including both in-reach and outreach efforts, to increase student access to higher education. Quality career exploration and comprehensive student education planning services offered by the Counseling Department assist with student retention, course completion, and the successful completion of each student's education goal(s), both here at SCC and beyond.

Based on this analysis, the Counseling Department has met the established criteria for successfully serving our students – including those identified in the Student Equity Report as most in need. In addition to the valuable data we retrieved across the five most relevant questions pertaining to quality of counseling services rendered, we were also able to determine how students hear about the Counseling services offered on our campus. Overall, a majority of students learned about Counseling services at SCC via the New Student Orientation and the SCC website. We are pleased to see that the third most likely source for information about Counseling services is via the recommendation of an instructor at SCC.

Disproportionate impact among Student Equity Groups assessed?

The Counseling Department proudly serves the SCC community as a whole. Based on this analysis of results, there was no disproportionate impact, or significant difference, in the student response data across all five questions most relevant to the Counseling Center experience when disaggregated based on Equity group. Across all student groups identified as target Equity populations, the Counseling Department met or exceeded our baseline criteria for success.

Recommendations

Counseling faculty, Department Chairs, and Dean of Counseling & Student Support Services will be discussing this report and the analysis of findings at the Counseling Department FLEX meeting for Fall 2019. The Counseling Program Effectiveness Survey will again be examined and updated as needed. And key stakeholders will remain in communication throughout the year as we prepare to once again assess the Counseling Department Service Area Outcomes in Spring 2020. Based on an analysis of the results, student feedback on the Counseling Program Effectiveness Survey surpassed our satisfaction benchmark of 80% across all key measurements.

Counseling faculty will continue to engage themselves in creative approaches to meeting student needs. To that end, we have rolled out and are expanding an Online Counseling service delivery platform that we feel will allow the department reach more students effectively and deliver core education planning and support services virtually in this new online environment.

Curriculum and Program Management

Program Review - Curriculum and Program Management : Version by Crabill, Phillip on 01/04/2020 04:54

With SCC's Mission Statement in mind, explain how your program/service area meets the academic, developmental, and vocational needs of SCC's diverse student population?

The Counseling Department's Vision and Mission are closely aligned with SCC's Mission Statement. The Counseling Department aims to support the educational, career and personal growth of SCC students, providing services dedicated to increasing student success and creating a culture on campus where students are free to learn, to act, to communicate, and to think critically. Counseling faculty assist students in strategically planning for success through goal setting that is informed by one's values, shaped by one's experiences, and aligned with each student's short- and long-term vision. Counseling faculty guide students through a process of career exploration and development, planning for certificate and/or degree attainment, and transfer planning to meet the educational goals and completion needs of all students. Our department offers designated counseling faculty to serve SCC's special populations such as Athletics, CAMP, DSPS, EOPS, Honors, International students, STEM, TRIO and Veterans. The Counseling Department is closely working through the on-boarding process with new and returning students, offering college orientations, academic planning and registration workshops, and assessment and placement recommendations for English/ACE, reading and math courses. Counseling faculty work closely with students to develop both abbreviated and comprehensive student education plans, mapping from start to finish a pathway for each student to satisfy their educational goals – all the while encouraging personal reflection and deeper self-exploration at each step of the process. For a full list of Counseling Department support services, click here: <https://sccollege.edu/departments/counseling/Pages/default.aspx> (<https://sccollege.edu/departments/counseling/Pages/default.aspx>).

Does your program/service area offer sufficient courses, workshops or other services, with sufficient frequency, at appropriate times, and through appropriate delivery modes to meet the major requirements, transfer goals, and general education, co-curricular, and elective needs of the student body? If not, list what changes would help accomplish this.

Yes, the Counseling department offers sufficient courses, workshops and other services with sufficient frequency and at appropriate times to meet the elective needs of the student body.

The Counseling department co-chairs and faculty systematically plan course offerings and workshops (including all in-person New Student Orientations and Academic Probation & Success workshops) on days and times that yield the greatest participation from students as possible. The Counseling Center offers an array of in-person career, academic and personal counseling services, Monday through Friday. We also offer Online Counseling services mid-week, evenings (after-hours) and weekends. Our goal is to assist each student at SCC in meeting their unique personal, career and academic goals by delivering a holistic, case management approach to service delivery. For a full list of Counseling Department support services, click here: <https://sccollege.edu/departments/counseling/Pages/default.aspx> (<https://sccollege.edu/departments/counseling/Pages/default.aspx>).

Does your program/service area offer learning opportunities that extend beyond the traditional classroom experience?

Yes - the Counseling department makes every effort possible to reach students effectively. In addition to in-person services offered in the Counseling Center (see above), counseling faculty take our services "mobile" by providing class presentations to students in various classrooms and across disciplines, hosting workshops across campus, and staffing informational tables at campus- and community-based events. Counseling faculty serve leadership positions in grant-funded programs that offer students incredible access to undergraduate research opportunities, internship and fellowship opportunities, scholarship awards, and enrichment experiences unique in the community college setting. The department is also expanding its Online Counseling program, providing another avenue to effectively reach and assist our students.

How do program/service area faculty and/or staff review the processes it uses to manage the curriculum and program, including the process of introducing new courses and/or workshops and services, the process of conducting quadrennial reviews for instruction, and the process of creating new programs and services?

Counseling department co-chairs and faculty consistently set aside a portion of each FLEX week meeting, and monthly department meetings when necessary, to review the processes that the department uses to manage curriculum and program decisions. All department efforts, be it related to new course offerings or new programs/services, are reviewed by the contract counseling faculty body as a whole. Decisions are made collectively, and in consultation with the department dean and part-time adjunct faculty. Quadrennial reviews for instruction are coordinated by the Counseling department rep on the Curriculum & Instructional Council (CIC) and/or other counseling instructional faculty.

How do program/service area faculty and/or staff coordinate activities with other college programs and services, including the Library? How do program/service area faculty and/or staff maintain their knowledge of other programs and services offered at SCC? If applicable, what contact does the program/service area have with outside advisory groups?

Counseling department faculty make every effort to work effectively with professionals in other Student Services areas, as well as with program leaders and instructional faculty from other disciplines. Counseling faculty regularly meet with and support the efforts of other areas - from working individually with like-minded staff in the support of SCC students, to offering trainings for student services personnel and other discipline faculty related to new state-wide student success initiatives that have impacted campus operations. Counseling faculty participate in Counseling & Student Services division-wide retreats, bringing together all student services personnel for collective skill building and professional growth. The Counseling department offers courses that are often linked to other discipline offerings to form valuable learning communities for students on campus. Finally, Counseling faculty serve on a variety of both on- and off-campus advisory groups - including AB 540/Dreamers and Student Research Symposium task force, College Promise and STEM advisory groups, as well as workgroups in our Region VIII community colleges focused on system-wide updates and program changes (e.g., Common Assessment Initiative, AB 705 MMAP, IEPI, Guided Pathways, etc.).

Upon consideration of the information you have presented in this section, what areas or issues will need attention from the program/service area in the next three years?

- Additional full-time counseling faculty are needed at SCC. Our current counselor-to-student ratio is 1:1417, placing us way out of step with the ASCCC recommendation of 1:370. Additional faculty are necessary to help this college maximize its effectiveness in serving students within the new student centered funding formula. Counseling faculty are charged with creating and regularly updating comprehensive student education plans for all students on this campus - a vital ingredient to student success at SCC. Counseling faculty are needed in leadership roles as the college moves toward full implementation of Guided Pathways, AB 705, and other state-wide legislative initiatives. Additional part-time counseling faculty are also needed to support the efforts of contract counseling faculty and the department mission.
- In support of Guided Pathways and strategic onboarding efforts, the Counseling department will be expanding career services to include one-on-one career counseling as well as counseling courses, workshops and events offered on-site at all four OUSD high schools. Counseling faculty will coordinate the administration and interpretation of career assessment protocols to assist students in career exploration and aligning their interests with college programs and majors. Counseling faculty will need college and district support on purchasing necessary career exploration software, technology solutions, and supplies vital to the exploration and onboarding processes.
- The Counseling department is currently expanding its Online Counseling program, increasing counselor availability for student appointments, live-chat sessions, and other online services. Additional funding support needed for technology solutions.
- The Counseling department will continue implementation efforts of AB705, AB1805, collection of data and collaboration with discipline faculty on improving our assessment processes.

How well do the facilities used by the program/service area meet its needs? Do facilities and equipment meet appropriate safety criteria?

Counseling cubicle spaces do not meet the needs of Counseling office space.

How sufficient are the program/service area's equipment, supplies, and materials? Does the program/service area have a budget and timeline for the purchase of needed equipment and supplies?

Sufficient thus far.

How well do technology resources (i.e., computers, software, media and presentation equipment) meet the needs of the program/service area?

Sufficient thus far.

How well do technology resources (i.e., computers and software), training, and technical support meet the administrative needs of the program/service area?

Sufficient thus far.

How adequate is staff support (provided by administrative assistants, lab assistants, learning facilitators, and instructional assistants, and other classified staff) to meet the instructional and operational needs of the program/service area?

Sufficient thus far.

Does your program/service area receive any categorical (Basic Skills, Student Equity, SSSP, Strong Workforce Program) and/or grant funding? If so, what major activities or resources has the funding allowed for? What impact has this had on your program/service area (address both positive and negative impacts)? If the college were to sustain these activities, which are critical to your program/service area and what would be required to institutionalize them?

1. Yes
2. Contract Counseling faculty, Part-time counseling faculty, classified staff, Supplies and materials, food for workshops, computer technology and software solutions.
3. Without this funding, it would be difficult to operate the Counseling Department.
4. Funding for Contract Counseling faculty, part-time Counseling faculty, classified staff, and supplies and materials.

Upon consideration of the information you have presented in this section, what areas or issues will need attention from the program/service area in the next three years?

Categorical funds have remained static. Yet, through union negotiations, salaries have increased. Therefore, we need additional, sustained funding to maintain Contract Counseling faculty, part-time Counseling faculty, classified staff, and supplies and materials allowing the department to operate.

What are faculty, staff, and administrators doing to remain current in knowledge of learning theory, counseling and student development theory, maintenance and operations practices, instructional strategies, and content? In which professional organizations and conferences do faculty, staff, and administrators participate?

Counseling faculty regularly engage themselves in professional development activities, professional organizations and other activities that are based on best practices in the field and enhancing student success. Our faculty explore and implement creative approaches to instructional delivery - both in the Counseling classrooms and individual/group/online/in-person advising sessions and workshops. Counseling faculty attend annual professional development conferences focused on student success, transfer, and strategic funding management. Counseling faculty are in lead positions on several major initiatives that have impacted the CCCs, including SB 1456 - the Student Success Act/SSSP, AB 705 and Guided Pathways to name a few - and regularly attend workshops and conferences sponsored by the CCCCCO and IEPI in support of these efforts.

How do faculty, staff, and administrators participate in college-wide programs, shared governance bodies, and leadership activities? In what ways do faculty, staff, and administrators serve as resources for the community?

Counseling faculty are actively involved in leadership activities for statewide initiatives with AB 705, Guided Pathways development groups, and Guided Pathways leadership team.

Resources for the community are provided through activities such as Early Welcome, Family Night, and Senior Day.

Are adequate numbers of qualified faculty, staff, and administrators available to teach and/or implement all components within a program/service area's offerings or services?

While we offer an impressive array of counseling courses and services, our counselor-to-student ratio at SCC 1:1417, placing us way out of step with our 3 comparable community colleges, and over 4 times the ratio recommended by the Academic Senate of California Community Colleges of 1:370. Additional Counseling faculty are needed to expand course offerings and services.

Are adequate and appropriate mentoring and professional development opportunities available and do department faculty, staff, and administrators regularly utilize these opportunities?

Yes, our Counseling faculty go above and beyond to ensure regular participation in professional development opportunities both on and off campus.

To what extent are adjunct faculty, part-time staff, and interim administrators knowledgeable about the program/service area's practices and standards? What opportunities are provided for adjunct faculty, part-time staff, and interim administrators to become engaged in program/service area activities and communication?

The Counseling Department offers on-going training opportunities ensuring up-to-date information on counseling practices and standards. Adjunct faculty, part-time staff and interim administrators are encouraged to attend counseling related trainings, conferences and participate in shared governance. Perspectives of adjunct faculty are taken into consideration when making larger service area decisions.

2. Yes
3. Yes
4. Yes – Counseling department service area outcome reports and results are posted annually to the Student Services SLO/SAO web page.

How does the program/service area keep instructional faculty, counselors, advisors, and/or service area personnel informed about course offerings, trainings, workshops, and related practices?

Professional development opportunities (e.g., training, workshops, conferences, etc.) are communicated via email to all department faculty and discussed thoroughly in department meetings.

How well do faculty and staff communicate about and coordinate the work of the program/service area?

Clear and effective communication within the Counseling department amongst faculty and support staff is vital to Counseling Center operations. Our contract counseling faculty meet at least once per month for regularly scheduled department meetings. Adjunct counseling faculty typically meet once per semester for training opportunities designed by the department. Peer observations and evaluations of all Counseling faculty are conducted in accordance with the current FARSCCD contract stipulations. Counseling faculty members consistently check in with one another when questions arise during the advising process, gaining from the vast array of professional experiences and expertise of colleagues. Program objectives, SLOs and SAOs are each evaluated and discussed annually. All Counseling faculty regularly work together to provide vital input for the design and delivery of key services including but not limited to Assessment and Placement Recommendations, New Student Orientation programs, career exploration services, comprehensive student education planning and follow-up services and interventions. In all aspects of Counseling department business, feedback from faculty and support staff is an essential part of Counseling services delivery at SCC.

Summary Report

Program Review Summary Report - What is and is not working : Version by Crabill, Phillip on 01/04/2020 04:54

Briefly describe and explain what is working well in your program/service area.

The Counseling Department has been working tirelessly to meet the needs of SCC's students and this institution. Counseling faculty continue to provide leadership, innovative ideas and collaborative program development based on best practices that has helped this institution grow in the past four years. Counseling faculty serve as leads on many of the new state-wide initiatives currently rolling out in the CCC setting - these include Guided Pathways, AB 705 and AB 1805 to name a few. Counseling faculty also go above and beyond in the service of this institution by participating significantly in the shared governance process, representing all faculty on the FARSCCD Executive Board, and in securing outside revenue streams in the form of grants, scholarships, etc. that directly benefit our students and our college.

Counseling services have successfully met the diverse academic, career, and personal needs of our students through individual advisement for both general population and special population students, new student orientations and student success workshops, and a new Hawks Career Series - helping students further engage with the career exploration process. The Counseling department has also taken their services "mobile" with remote counseling services being delivered at informational tables hosted during high-traffic campus events, on-the-spot advising in the quad-areas on campus, and we continue to provide classroom visits to communicate important campus updates at large. Counseling has also begun offering an array of services online Monday thru Saturday, midday, evenings and weekends - including individual online appointments, group advising sessions, and "Live-Chat" sessions.

A review of Counseling department Course SLOs and our center's SAO reports during the past four years further supports the truly innovative and meaningful work we are doing with students at SCC. The data illustrates that students in our Counseling courses are mastering the department's SLOs at rates that consistently meet or exceed the standard for success. Furthermore, students visiting the Counseling Center are reporting high satisfaction rates (93%) with the services they are receiving, as demonstrated by 92% of students feeling comfortable to return to Counseling again for additional assistance and recommending our services to a friend. Our department's CSLOs and SAOs are designed to support SCC's overall Institutional Learning Outcomes (ILOs) and to affirm the experience of each college student on this campus. The Counseling department has expanded its course offerings to include classes taught through dual enrollment with OUSD and at other special off-site locations like Pacific Clinics - serving nontraditional students who benefit greatly from Counseling curriculum. Finally, our department is continually working on developing new curriculum to meet the needs of today's college student, as illustrated by the new Social Work and Human Services ADT option at SCC.

Overall, our department strives to meet the diverse needs of SCC's students - to break down the barriers that hinder access to higher education for all students, and to support students at each step of the process - through assessment, selection of goal(s), comprehensive education planning, successful course completion, and ultimately successful graduation/goal fulfillment and transfer. In the coming years, we will continue to collect valuable data on trends in the classroom and in our center, and will consistently enhance our service delivery options to best meet the needs of our students.

Briefly describe and explain what is not working well or needs attention in your program/service area.

Additional full-time counseling faculty are needed at SCC. Our current counselor-to-student ratio is 1:1417, placing us way out of step with the ASCCC recommendation of 1:370.

Additional faculty are necessary to help this college maximize its effectiveness in serving students within the new student centered funding formula. Counseling faculty are charged with assisting students in exploring academic and career interests, clarifying goals, and creating and regularly updating comprehensive student education plans for all students on this campus - vital ingredients to student success at SCC. Counseling faculty are needed in leadership roles as the college moves toward full implementation of Guided Pathways, AB 705, AB 1805 and other state-wide legislative initiatives. Additional part-time counseling faculty are also needed to support the efforts of contract counseling faculty and the department mission.

While Counseling faculty and the services we deliver continue to meet the needs of students at SCC extremely well, our location in the D-building is no longer sufficient to serve the department's purposes in an effective manner. Office space is extremely limited, with outdated cubicle workspaces that fail to protect the confidential nature of interactions between counseling faculty and students. In the coming years, we support all efforts for the securing of a new Student Services building and welcome center, where Counseling and other vital support services will be adequately located and prepared to best meet the needs of SCC students.
