Laney) Have you wondered why some students rise above challenges while others become derailed at the mere thought of discomfort? After recent events, many students are struggling to get back on track but are still distracted and disorganized. This workshop will discuss the brain's response to perceived trauma and how we can support our students (and each other) on the path back to a new "normal."	Join Trauma and Learning Workshop https://cccconfer.zoom.us/j/93082663088 Meeting ID: 930 8266 3088

The Art of Losing: Encouraging Healthy Debate Without the Need to Win Monday, August 17, 2020 1:30 p.m.-3:00 p.m. (Maureen Roe) This session will discuss a philosophy of argument for argument's sake--shifting the objective of engaging in argument from defeating others to learning from defeat. Only the losers of argument gain some new insights and understanding. In a weird but accurate sense, losers are winners because they are forced to rethink and challenge their ideas. They walk away with something they did not have when they started whereas a winner walks away with just a slightly larger head. The ideas can be applied to any course where critical thinking is used to construct oral or written arguments. Participants will engage in a mock debate.	Join The Art of Losing Workshop https://cccconfer.zoom.us/j/96251081207 Meeting ID: 962 5108 1207

This workshop will discuss questions such as: what do you bring to the classroom that may have an effect on your students' success and, what are possible barriers to their success (and, perhaps, yours)? Introduction to ACES with an emphasis on strategic self-care for burnout management.
