My time as an international student at SCC was such an enriching experience. I found the staff and faculty to be very receptive to helping me navigate this very personal learning journey. Without the freedom that SCC gave me to discover and explore what I was passionate about, I would not have been able to move through completing an undergraduate degree and then pursue my postgraduate studies.

The friends I made at SCC are some of the most wonderful people that I have met in my life. I am still friends with a lot of people that I met at SCC and it will always hold a very special place in my heart.

SCC was definitely a place where I thrived as a student and a person. SCC provides an opportunity for advancement and gives students instruction and facilitates an equitable environment where you can thrive.

When I came to the U.S., I was not able to speak English at all. SCC is a small community college so I was able to connect with everyone. I was succeeding in making friends in my classes. Using English, I was able to connect with everyone; I was then able to experience different views and perspectives. This led me to being successful in my classes and ultimately was able to transfer to UC, Irvine.

“SCC was definitely a place where I thrived as a student and a person.”

My time at SCC was really wonderful as it started teaching about my profession—accounting. It helped my professional skills and working as a team and how to communicate with coworkers and clients. I am on OPT as a Junior Accountant. While studying, I joined some clubs. It really helped me get socialized in the U.S. and to learn the culture. One day, I hope to give back to the community and to Santiago Canyon College.

“I helped my professional skills and working as a team and how to communicate with coworkers and clients.”
